"TEACHERS WELCOME" IS PLANNED

Federation of P. T. A. Holds Fall Meeting at Intermediate

DATE BE SET LATER

Mrs. Hanning's Appointment as Chairman Is Applauded

As the constitution of the federation of Parent-Teacher associations provides for a meeting at this time, it was called by the president, Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, and held Wednesday afternoon in the library of the Wilson avenue Intermediate, in spite of the fact that the city schools have not yet opened their doors to students.

There was pungent odor of new paint permeating the building, and great piles of new text books suggested preparation for study hours to come.

Mrs. Moore conducted the meeting, and in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Tronsier, the minutes were taken by Mrs. Whytock, president of the Doran Street P.-T. A.

A matter which provoked some disousssion was the date and character of the annual "teachers' reception." Mrs. C. H. Thompson said she wished it would be called something other than "reception," which to most people was suggestive of formality and boredom. Some one suggested that it be called the "teachers' welcome," and so favorably was it received that the suggestion was adopted. Mrs. Aichholz, courtesy chairman, was placed at the head of a committee to be of her own choosing, whose duty it would be to consult the teachers' club and arrange for the affair, the program to be short and not to exceed three or four numbers.

At the suggestion of the parliamentarian, who refreshed the memories of members relative to the constitutional requirement that an executive committee of five be appointed for the transaction of emergency business, such a committee was duly elected, composed of Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, Mrs. L. P. Tronsier, Mrs. A. H. Brown, Mrs. C. H. Thompson and Mrs. L. T. Rowley.

The announcement by the president that Mrs. Pierson Hanning has been appointed district chairman of membership was received with applause, as her work along that line in Glendale has won the admiration of her fellow members on the local board.

The president transmitted the invitation of Principal George U. Moyse of the high school for the federation board to meet in the cafeteria of the high school, and the secretary was instructed to send a letter of acceptance and thanks.

Members were then asked to rise and state their names and offices for the benefit of new members, which they did as follows:

Mrs. Bert Cline, chairman of scholarship, explained that she handles the scholarship fund for needy children and will be glad to be advised of any cases needing aid.

Mrs. A. H. Brown, parliamentarian, stated her business as the duty to see that business is transacted properly, and expressed her willingness to organize a class in parliamentary law and secure a competent teacher, if there were ten or more ready to enroll. So many expressed a wish for the class it will probably be formed. She also voiced a willingness to help members to solve parliamentary problems.

Mrs. Dodge introduced herself as president of the Central Avenue P.-T. A.; Miss Daniels as chairman of publicity; Mrs. Thompson as president of the Columbus Avenue P.-T. A.; Mrs. Moore as president of the Pacific Avenue P.-T. A.; Mrs. Dotson as juvenile court chairman; Mrs. Morgan, historian of the federation; Mrs. Vierick, visiting chairman; Mrs. Horner, president of Wilson Avenue Intermediate P.-T. A.; Mrs. Allen Sanford, chairman of magazines and emblems; Mrs. Lord, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Aichholz, chairman of courtesy; Mrs. Wickert, president of Broadway P.-T. A.; Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, president of the high school P.-T. A.; Mrs. L. T. Rowley, vice president; Mrs. W. A. Kulp, chairman of education.

TUESDAY CLUB JOINS C. OF C.

Women's Organization Affiliates; to Cooperate

Secretary James Rhoades of the chamber of commerce reports that the Tuesday Afternoon club has become affiliated with the chamber by taking out an organization membership and has agreed to cooperate with the chamber in meeting its problem of making newcomers to Glendale feel at home. The chamber is inviting all new residents to come to its headquarters and register and as soon as this registration takes place, the names will be referred to the Tuesday Afternoon club, whose social committees will get busy in an effort to aid the newcomers in getting acquainted socially.

REALTY BOARD IS IN DRIVE FOR LINE

One Member From Each Firm Appointed to Secure Subscriptions

At its meeting Wednesday noon the members of the realty board of Glendale voted to provide one member from each firm, on Friday, to assist in putting over the drive for the electrifying of the new car line on Glendale avenue. The board is back of this movement heart and soul, just as it is behind any project that is for the advancement of Glendale as a whole, and members are proving this fact by gladly agreeing to give their time in assisting to put the matter over.

C. W. Ingledue, who has been very active in putting improvements for Glendale over, said in his introductory remarks:

"There is no business in Glendale that will be benefited by the establishment of this line as will the real estate men. With its lower fare this line is sure to bring to Glendale hundreds of prospective residents who would not otherwise find their way here. If these people come, most of them are sure to buy property here. If they do buy the real estate man comes in for his commission. If he rents, the real estate man comes in again for his rental fee. Therefore it should be the real estate man who will give of a small part of his time toward putting this matter over. This line will benefit this entire city. While it will be a Glendale avenue proposition, it cannot help but prove beneficial to Glendale as a whole. All this proposition needs is putting over. The preliminary work has been done. We have learned that the people are willing to give if they are solicited, but it takes workers to do this. We believe that if the members of this board will assist us we can put this thing over in one day."

"Let us forget there are several sections of Glendale," said W. L. Twining, local manager of the F. P. Newport company. "We have heard altogether too much of this in the months and years that have gone by. From now on there is no North Glendale, East Glendale, South Glendale or West Glendale. It is simply Glendale, first, last and all the time. The fellow who pulls for any one section is not working for the best interests of the city. He is narrow-minded."

"If the people of the Grand View district were to ask for assistance for a car line for their section would you be so enthusiastic about it?" asked Charles B. Guthrie.

"I certainly would," replied Mr. Twining, springing to his feet. "I believe that a line in the Grand View district would be a benefit to the city and I pledge right now to work day and night to help you put it over if you ever start anything of the kind."

Chairman Hayselden of the combined railroad committees gave a brief talk on the railroad situation. He said in part:

"Folks of Glendale: You have a chance right now to make one of the grandest strides forward that this city has ever achieved. The chairman of this committee has been working day and night to put this thing over and is willing to continue to do so, but he cannot put it over alone. The members of this organization are the fellows who should get behind this movement and help put it over. Every member will benefit by this line and I believe they should get in and help us."

It was decided to have all the members of the realty board meet at 9 o'clock Friday morning at the railroad headquarters, Mrs. Mabel L. Tight's office, 612 East Broadway, at which time the work of the day will be assigned to the workers. A comprehensive plan of action has been worked out by Chairman Hayselden. The real estate board is composed of some of the livest wires in Glendale. They have promised to ring the bell on Friday, and there is little doubt that they will turn the trick.

Following this action on the part of the board a debate on the lawyers' bill, which will be No. 24 on the November ballot, was indulged in. Judge Grey Crump taking the affirmative, while Woodworth Clum held down the negative.

BOULEVARD FOLK BACK ELECTRIC LINE

Association Goes on Record for Bonus to Glendale-Montrose

The San Fernando Boulevard Improvement association went on record last night as unanimously endorsing the electrification of Glendale avenue, and it was a very enthusiastic crowd that gathered in the new building belonging to William Griffin at 806 South San Fernando road.

The association pledged itself to give all the support financially it could and to have its members to help in soliciting of money. A committee consisting of Lloyd Wilson and William Griffin will be sent out tomorrow to help raise this money.

A committee was appointed to take up the matter of fixing up the park and public playground on Magnolia and San Fernando road, and to see if they could get the city to secure a swimming pool for that section. The committee consists of S. S. Gilhuly, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin, Mrs. May P. Moberly and H. S. Cobb. They will look into this matter and report later.

The question in regard to the Southern Pacific depot was debated and it was decided that the committee now working on that was progressing nicely and the association would take no action at this time but will leave it in the hands of the committee.

A very interesting and enthusiastic talk was made by E. F. Heisser of the Independent Lumber company in regard to the support of the Patterson avenue park, in the purchase of the additional thirteen acres adjoining the park. Both Mr. Heisser and Mr. Wilson stated that they were in favor of having the city purchase all the small parks it could in different sections of the city, and they thought this was a good buy.

The next meeting of the association will be held the second Tuesday in October, or October 10, and will be a social one. The place has not been definitely decided on as yet, but a hall will probably be obtained. There will be a program and refreshments, and Mrs. M. P. Moberly is chairman of the committee, which she will choose herself.

DOG AND CAT KILLING LAW BEFORE CITY

Council Meeting to Be Attended by Owners of Animals

Dog and cat owners and lovers of animals are expected to attend the meeting of the city council tonight when the ordinance ordering the killing of dogs and cats as a precautionary measure against rabies will be up for final reading and passage.

The intention of the council is to pass the ordinance, which permits the wholesale killing of dogs found wandering, and instructs all owners of pet stock to chain up or confine their animals to protect them.

The matter has been thoroughly ventilated through the newspapers.

REALTOR IS FAIRY GODFATHER TO HOME BUYERS IN GLENDALE

By JOHN H. GERRIE
Civic Development Expert

Glendale owes much to the realtor. He has been chiefly responsible for the sensational advance of this marvelous young city. He is now our most indispensable local personage.

Not so long ago we were inclined to regard the average real estate agent dubiously and met his advances with more or less condescension. If we had a dog of ferocious mien, some of us would not have hesitated to give him the run of the front yard about the time we expected a call from the man with a lot for sale.

But times have changed. Possession of a slice of the earth's surface is now recognized as the basis of stability and wealth and the selling of real estate the noblest of professions. He who sells that slice has graduated from the class of book agents to that of a benefactor. The realty salesman whom we were wont to dodge on the street is now sought with open hand. Our one-time Nemesis is now our best friend.

In Glendale, as in all Southern California, the realtor has been the pioneer and the trail-breaker. His has been the vision that has foreseen the future destined for this strategically located gate city. He has had the courage to shout to the world that here is the ideal climate, here is the ideal home location, here is the predestined abiding place of health, wealth and happiness.

To the splendid optimism and persistent publicity of the realtor has been largely due the movement of population toward Southern California. Having started the people coming, these sellers of the earth have plotted towns and staked out home-sites so the newcomers would find something to buy. They have become city planners, business accelerators and industrial developers. They have put on subdivisions as required, built sewers, walks and streets, brought in water, gas and electricity, planted trees and then have sold ready-made home-sites at attractive prices and on easy terms.

Not only does the realtor confer stability and thrust riches upon the individual buyer but he gathers communities together, builds cities and strengthens state and nation. He is the best booster on earth and the most persistent advertiser that ever lived. When he has a good thing he doesn't keep it to himself but tells everybody about it. He gives everyone a chance to make more money than himself and he injects "pep," optimism and enthusiasm into every person with whom he comes in contact.

The business of the realtor is done in sight of the public andto be successful he must be honest and honorable. All the realtors in Glendale are successful. His unselfishness is a model for other professions, for when he effects a sale to a new resident, that ends his profit in most cases to that particular buyer for all time. But the grocer and the butcher, the baker and the vegetable dealer, the merchant and the milkman continue to collect profits every week during the lifetime of the resident whom the realtor has brought in. Every trade and profession benefits regularly or frequently with the exception of the profession chiefly responsible for adding this asset to the community.

The realtor, though receiving least return from each new resident, performs the greatest service for that resident and the city around him. Whereas the merchant sells only for the present, the realtor sells for all time. The home buyer soon uses up that which he gets from the store but he keeps for life and hands on to his children that which he gets from the realtor. The latter is the fairy godfather of the home owner for he not only provides him with a heritage but he speedily adds to its value by subsequent transactions in the neighborhood.

The modern realtor, such as those who are now building up Glendale and the surrounding territory, are members of one of the highest professions in the country. That profession calls for sterling character, education, vision, faith, knowledge of human nature, intuition, persuasive speech and the highest quality of salesmanship. The successful realtor believes in himself and the property he offers. He eschews exaggeration and unsubstantiated statements as out of date. He sticks to the truth and hammers it in. He boosts his rival's subdivision as well as his own. He sells himself and his community before he sells his lot. That is why he is successful.

For the marvelous growth of Glendale and other communities give praise to the realtor. He is the real builder of Southern California.

PRIZES FOR ELKS' PICNIC GAMES ARE SHOWN

Event Takes Place Sunday and All of Herd Are Called

After looking at the prizes for the Elks' picnic next Sunday which are on display in Pendroy's window, one doesn't have to stretch his imagination very far as to the keen competition that will be indulged in for the valuable prizes.

There is going to be something doing every minute, and remember that the real prizes are going to the mothers, wives, sisters and children of the Elks. No child will go away without some prize, as Big Brother Bill has provided for them in particular. All the ice cream that one can eat will be supplied, besides pop and candy and many little toys.

Don't forget that the registration prizes are among the most valuable. One must register upon entering the grounds. Registration closes at 2:30 p. m. The entries for the children's races will close at 1:30 p. m., and for the adult races at 2 p. m.

Everything is in readiness to give an enjoyable time for all Elks and their families.

Past exalted rulers of the Elks' lodge of Glendale are all excited over the handicap race of the day. Most of the gentlemen seem to be at a disadvantage because of the fact that Pete Ferry has just shortly returned from Catalina island where he has been training with the boy scouts. It is claimed that this is giving him a greater advantage and that he should be placed on scratch and that Bert Woodard, if height has anything to do with winnin the race, could win hands down, but it is claimed that he cannot run the full distance without falling.

Albert Pierce and Johnny Fanset have made a side bet that one will beat the other. It looks very much as though this race is going to be hotly contested for, as the prize is a valuable one. The doners of this prize are the present officers of the Elks' lodge.

PROSPEROUS FALL INDICATED FOR GLENDALE

Secretary Pilling of Credit Association Discusses Outlook

"I look for a very prosperous fall and winter for Glendale business men," said Secretary Frank H. Pilling of the Merchants Credit association, when asked his opinion in regard to the commercial outlook. He continued:

"Our association has now passed the 8000 mark in the reports on file and we find that the men who are coming into the business world of our city are of a reliable, substantial class, some of them a very high class, who have made a fine reputation in the cities they have left and are bringing plenty of money to establish businesses here and also to purchase homes in addition to their business investment.

"This is due in a great measure to the boosting for our town that its citizens are doing, many of them sending the local papers to friends in other parts of the country, calling their attention to our building record and other matters showing the prosperity of Glendale."

BEST BABY CANDIDATES TO BE SHOWN

Photographs of All Contestants to Be Exhibited in Glendale

FINE YOUNGSTERS

Burbank, La Crescenta, Tujunga and Eagle Rock to Be Represented

The public is soon to have a chance to see for itself whether there has been any exaggeration of the beauty and charm of the entrants in the best baby contest of the Glendale district, including Burbank, Eagle Rock and the country to the north—La Crescenta, Montrose, Tujunga.

In a few days there will be an exhibit in Glendale for all to view, and if it doesn't justify everything that has been said and make this a baby proud district it will be a surprising thing and show that beholders are less susceptible than they have any business to be.

These baby boys and girls whose pictures have been made by our own local photographers, Ralph Brown, Glenn Dolberg, Mr. Ellias and Mr. Ostrom, are a fine lot of youngsters so fascinating that even their pictures are hard to get away from.

They now are on the way to the 500 mark with the contest ending September 30, and only 17 days left.

Parents must return proofs promptly if they are to receive pictures and the photographers are complaining because of delays in this regard.

Some of the most beautiful babies in the list are now being entered. One such is Robert Eugene Frederickson, 13 months old, a husky, blue-eyed youngster who weighs 26 pounds and who is a miracle of good nature. He indulges in a lot of baby jabber, and is beginning to talk United States. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Frederickson, of 126 West Mariposa street, Eagle Rock, who have been residents of that city for four or five months, and own a home there. Mr. Frederickson was an expert tool maker for the shipyards at San Pedro before coming to Eagle Rock.

Another beautiful child is William Douglas Emerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Emerson, of 1015 East Windsor road, who have been residents of Glendale about a year. He is a real Glendale baby and a most lovely one with large, liquid hazel eyes and charming smile whom no one could resist.

POSTOFFICE SITE REPORT READY FOR ACTION

Covers Branch on East Side for Headquarters Decision

Quite an exhaustive report in relation to the sites which have been offered for the proposed branch postoffice in the neighborhood of Broadway and Glendale avenue has been prepared by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, which will cover all the points that will be considered by the department at Washington. It will be submitted to Congressman Lineberger before it is dispatched to the capital, as he is in close touch with the matter, realizes the need, and is anxious to do what he can to interest the department in it. He has practically given assurance to constituents who have talked with him that he is prepared to indorse Postmaster Jackson's report.

The postmaster is anxious Glendalians should realize that he can give no assurance of favorable consideration which will make the postoffice a reality. Washington is a long way from Glendale and its officials have a very vague idea of the needs of small western cities, but he is allowing himself to indulge in considerable hope.

He is anxious it should be a classified station because then it will be under his control and he can see that proper service is given and be in a position to meet any emergencies that arise.

He hopes to have a reply from the department in the course of a couple of weeks.

GLENDALE PRESS STAND ON DOGS IS APPROVED

Dr. Eisenman of Co. Campaign Against Rabies, Commends Attitude

"I congratulate you on the stand you have taken in giving the people the proper information," said Dr. Frank T. Eisenman, in charge of the county campaign against rabies, for the county health officer, calling at the Glendale Daily Press office today.

"This method will instruct the people how to take care of the dogs and the disease will eventually disappear.

"The matter should be left to the city health officer and no attention should be paid to the false propaganda in circulation for the last thirty or sixty days.

"In Los Angeles we have had reported six cases in the county, positively, in the last week. Los Angeles city has had seven. People having dogs with suspicious symptoms should report. These signs are undue excitement and wanderlust. When in this condition dogs will bite anything or person that touches them, not because they are angry, but because of their nervous condition.

"In the latter stages they become paralyzed in the jaws and can't bite. This is often mistaken for a bone in the throat, and its owner gets infected trying to help the animal. In any case, the dog should not be killed, especially by shooting in the head, until it has been examined by some one competent to make the examination.

"If there is any doubt about his diagnosis, the appearance of the Nigri body taken from the dog's brain will undoubtedly confirm the disease.

"In our work we take up stray dogs and hold them for observation for ten days ,and, of course, we take up sick dogs.

"If a stray dog is found to be in good health, and an owner appears to claim it, it is returned to the owner on payment of a fee. The sick dogs and dogs without owners are disposed of finally.

"The state is always willing to furnish Pasteur treatment without expense to those who cannot afford to pay for it."

HI SEARCHES FOR ROOM IN CLASSES

Students Now Entering Will Be Crowded in Period Assignments

The big problem that is confronting Principal George U. Moyse and his assisting school officials in the high school is how to adjust students' programs to their satisfaction and the satisfaction of their parents, and accommodate all who have enrolled. It is a problem which occupied them throughout the summer and which resulted in the present program of the long day from 7:45 to 4:15. With the class rooms available for teachers it was the only way that could be found.

The enrollment of the present week has proved to be 33 per cent higher than last year at the same time, and every class is now at the maximum with every available room occupied every hour of the day, except for a little leeway the last period. But students who will come in from this time on cannot, obviously, take all their subjects in that period, not being able to be in two places at once.

Teachers have been asked to turn in statistics relative to their class enrollments to see if there is any room anywhere, but so far as they have come in the outlook is not promising. Until more room is provided it will be useless to employ any more teachers.

Mr. Moyse sees no solution unless it be more of the temporary bungalows, as there appears to be no chance to rent additional quarters.

He is receiving a good many requests from parents to have their children transferred to classes which will meet earlier than the last period, but it is impossible for him to satisfy them under the existing conditions. He deplores as much as they can possibly do the long school day, but is powerless to handle the situation in any other way.

Mr. Movse feels it is a community problem as well as a school problem and he wants parents to understand it and help, if they can, in the solution, meanwhile being patient with what the school authorities are trying to do.

GYPSIES TO PASS

A band of gypsies will pass through Glendale today. The Glendale police department is putting the emphasis on "pass through," for it is determined to keep the wanderers on the move when they hit Glendale. The band consists of 50 men, women and boys. Last night the outfit camped just north of Burbank, and was headed this way.

NICKEL FARE IS PROMISED IN THE CITY

Glendale-Montrose Road Pledges Itself in Event Bonus Is Secured

TO YELLOW CAR LINE

From Brand and Broadway to Los Angeles Railway Line

A 5-cent fare will be given by the Glendale-Montrose Railway company from any point in Glendale south of Glorietta avenue to the yellow car line in Los Angeles, in the event the Union Pacific's line on Glendale avenue is electrified, according to a letter received by J. P. Hayselden, chairman of the combined railroad committee, from P. L. Hatch, general manager of the Glendale-Montrose Railway company's system. This will include the district between the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway and Glorietta avenue, and also between the same corner and the intersection of Broadway and Brand boulevard. In other words, any one boarding the Glendale-Montrose car at Brand and Broadway, or any point along Broadway, can transfer at Broadway and Glendale avenue and continue to the yellow car line in Los Angeles for the one fare of 5 cents. Also, there will be no extra fare charged from the corner of Broadway and Glendale to Broadway and Brand to those coming from northern points. A 5-cent fare will maintain anywhere in the city of Glendale, south of Glorietta avenue.

This is good news. It answers definitely a question that was raised at the realty board meeting yesterday by Charles B. Guthrie as to whether a person will be able to ride from the corner of Brand and Broadway to the yellow car line in Los Angeles for 5 cents, as will the people on Glendale avenue south of Glorietta Heights.

The letter written by Mr. Hatch is as follows:

"In our haste to present the schedule of proposed fares between points on the Glendale & Montrose railway, we inadvertently omitted to mention the point, namely, Brand boulevard and Broadway. This was caused by our having in mind the boundaries or limits of the city proper, and you will realize that we would not or could not make any discrimination between any such points.

"The present car service of the Glendale & Montrose railway is not to be disturbed in any manner whatsoever, by the new proposed line of Glendale avenue to Los Angeles.

"Passengers from Glorietta avenue, Verdugo Woodlands, as well as from points as far south as the city limits, will be privileged to ride to Brand boulevard and Broadway for a 5-cent fare, making a transfer at Glendale avenue and Broadway. Patrons of the line boarding the cars at Brand boulevard and Broadway may continue to Eagle Rock or transfer at Broadway and Glendale avenue to points north or south.

"Passengers desiring to board the cars at Brand boulevard or any point between Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue have the same cash fare and book privilege to and from Los Angeles as passengers boarding the cars on Glendale avenue between Monterey road and the south Glendale city limits."

An enthusiastic meeting of the combined railroad committee was held last night. Among the committee members present were J. P. Hayselden, chairman; C. E. Kimlin, F. L. Fox, Edward M. Radke, C. W. Ingledue, Mrs. Mabel L. Tight, J. L. Perch, W. C. Page, C. E. Stanley, Mr. McClish, E. E. Harrington and W. E. Mercer. There were also a number of the workers, other than committee members, present.

Much progress in the campaign was shown, and the reports made by the various committeemen brought nearer and nearer the goal for which each worker is striving.

A committee was present from the Exchange club of Glendale, the chairman of which reported that his organization had pledged itself to raise $500. The members of this committee present were R. E. Johnston, chairman; F. E. Hoyt, G. C. McConnell and E. J. Smith. The members of this committee stated that the Exchange club is right behind this campaign and the members are willing to do everything they can in assisting the campaign.

This movement was also endorsed by the Business Women's club of Glendale at its meeting on Tuesday.

EXCHANGE CLUB DISCUSSES LINE BONUS

It Is Argued the Whole City Will Be Benefitted by the Improvement

The electrification of the Glendale avenue carline was once again discussed at the meeting of the National Exchange club held at the Broadway Inn, Wednesday noon. In the discussion it was brought out that with this additional transportation line not only the eastern part of Glendale, but Glendale as a whole would be greatly benefitted. Members felt that now as never before was the opportune time to bring about this much needed improvement.

A committee consisting of R. E. Johnston of the Concrete Building and Tile company, S. F. Bell of the Wilson-Bell Hardware company, E. J. Smith of the Harrower laboratory, Fred E. Hoyt of the Dixon Sash and Door company, Dr. James A. Belyea, nerve specialist, was appointed to arrange to work in conjunction with committees of other clubs in the matter of securing the necessary funds as the city's share in the electrification of this line.

A motion was made that the club, through its members, arrange to raise a minimum of $500 towards the amount necessary to do this good work.

Members of the club were disappointed that the improvement of the Sycamore Canyon road had been indefinitely delayed and they went on record as being opposed to any interference in the development of improvements leading to the city's welfare by any person or group of persons because of such persons taking too narrow view of certain projects.

President W. B. Kelly and Secretary James A. Howarth are planning to attend the national convention of the club in Louisville, Ky., the latter part of the month.

The attendance prize was won by Dr. Henry R. Harrower. Those members present were C. E. Kinslin, S. F. Bell, Art Sherborne, Ed N. Radke, E. J. Smith, Dr. Henry R. Harrower, W. B. Kelly, J. A. Howarth, W. H. Block, G. H. Thomas, W. C. Waring, W. Q. Widdows, F. E. Hoyt, A. Gelmor, A. B. Castile, G. H. King, Fred S. Hill, Dr. J. A. Belyea, George Whitaker, E. B. Sutton, R. E. Johnston, D. Ripley Jackson, G. C. McConnell.

Guests were James Livie from Canada, George P. Porter, 402 South Brand, and Mr. King, from South Dakota.

A CALIOFRNIA PINE AND HOW TO KNNOW IT

Rare and Beautfiul Ones Are Seen in the Forests

By CHARLES H. SHIMM
Forest Examiner

Almost every one who goes to the mountains knows a redwood from a pine, though this writer has heard our California cedar, the "libocedrus decurrens," called a "pine" some thousands of times. But it is so each, and such fun, to pick up a little botany as well as some knowledge of birds and animals, that people who take vacations study more than they once did. They sometimes study "The Tree Book," by Julia Ellen Rogers, or Dr. Sudworth's "Forest Trees of the Pacific Slopes," or the invaluable publications of the botany department of the university. A few of them know of the writings of Dr. Kellogg, and Professor Greene's three volumes of papers, published in his magazine, "Pittonia." There is nothing better, however, than Dr. Willis L. Jepson's "Trees of California."

We have a number of rare and beautiful trees in California besides the species usually seen. One is the Coulter pine, which grows on very arid mountain slopes all the way from Monte Diablo to the Mexican border. It manages to thrive with less soil-water than almost any other tree of the region and, although of no commercial value at present, is being used for roadside planting in Southern California and has high ornamental possibilities. An article on this pine appeared in the Journal of Forestry last December.

Plans were made for a food sale to be held September 30, the place to be announced later.

A bazaar and sale will also be held the latter part of October, and further details regarding this will be given out. Five dollars was donated yesterday to help the new Buddies' Home at Los Angeles, as every chapter will take part in this work.

Three One-Act Plays Will Be Given at John Muir School Auditorium in October; Arranged by Enthusiastic Leader, Mrs. Locke

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Mrs. Farmer, Mrs. Ervin and Young Violinist Take Part in Delightful Program Held Tuesday in Connection With Meeting

A splendid entertainment will be given by the members of the dramatic section of the Woman's club, the program to be comprised of three one-act plays, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. J. A. Johnson, president of the club.

The formation of the plans to give the entertainment were announced by Mrs. Delmont Locke, leader of the dramatic section, at the meeting of the Woman's club at their club rooms Tuesday afternoon, the meeting being the first one this season.

Mrs. Locke is very enthusiastic in her work in behalf of the dramatic section and she has made excellent progress in her plans, it was reported.

The entertainment will be held in the John Muir school auditorium at a date to be picked later. Other details of the event also will be announced later.

A large crowd attended the opening meeting of the year of the Woman's club Tuesday afternoon and a delightful program was given in addition to the business session.

At the business session a lively discussion was held regarding the plans for the proposed new club building. The club at present owns two lots, which they plan to sell, as they are seeking another location for the building.

Mrs. Johnson announced that the membership cards are ready for the members.

GLORIA SWANSON SCORES BIG HIT

T. D. & L. Show Makes Good With "Gilded Cage"

Gloria Swanson, beautiful and popular Paramount star, scored another decisive hit in "Her Gilded Cage," her latest Paramount picture, produced by Sam Wood, on its presentation at the T. D. and L. theater last night.

Miss Swanson is known as the best gowned star of the screen, and as a French dancer who becomes the rage, she has abundant opportunities for the display of rich toilettes all of which were warmly admired by her feminine followers. The picture is intensely interesting and there are many scenes of great power.

David Powell is leading man and in the supporting cast are Harrison Ford, Walter Hiers, Anne Cornwall and Charles Stevenson. "Her Gilded Cage" is one of the biggest hits of the current season.

Throwing beauty away!

With carelessness and ignorance—so much of womanly beauty is lost. Some of it never to be regained.

Sad—that so many educated women, in other lines, have never learned the A-B-C's of beauty work.

Part of a refined woman's educational culture—is her knowledge of beauty work.

GROSSMAN-MILLER IS GROWING IN SPACE

1200 Feet of Additional Room Is Acquired by Firm

The Grossman-Miller Furniture company is spreading out. It is growing so rapidly that it has been compelled to secure more floor space. In fact, 1200 feet of additional space has been secured.

"We are now able," says the manager of this firm, "to display a larger and better line of furniture and rugs. Visit our store and you will be surprised to see how we have grown and to see such a variety of quality furniture priced right. An already large stock of rugs will be increased just as rapidly as opportunities come to us whereby we can secure high-grade weaves at prices that will save money for the public."

This firm sells phonographs for a small payment down and terms on the balance. It is also showing an excellent assortment of baby needs, and its "kiddie" department is well equipped.

"Satisfied customers" is given as the reason for the demand for more floor space by this firm. It endeavors to see that every customer is satisfied both with the goods and with the price. The store is open evenings for the convenience of those who cannot call throughout the day. The additional floor space was secured by annexing the storeroom at the rear of the building.

TUESDAY FOLKS START FALL DRIVE

Campaign for 100 Life Memberships to Continue Until Nov. 1

Now that the summer vacations are practically over, the drive for 100 life memberships to the Tuesday Afternoon club is on again and will close November 1.

At present the list contains 41 names and it is desirous for the club to have 100 by Charter day, November 14, when it is expected the cornerstone for the new clubhouse will be laid, so that they may put the list, with other data, in the cornerstone.

Mrs. Dan Campbell, president, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and Mrs. A. P. Findlay are hard at work again on this drive, and any one interested in a life membership may phone any of these ladies and they will call at your home, or make other arrangements.

As there will be no club meeting before the big fashion show, to be held September 26 at the Glendale theatre, Mrs. Campbell urges that every club member buy their tickets and tell their friends about this splendid entertainment.

A great many people go to the moving picture theatre anyway, why not go that evening and enjoy yourself, as well as help swell the Tuesday club's building fund. Tickets may be secured at the Glendale theatre, at Pendroy's store or from Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, 415 South Central avenue. This is an easy way to help the Tuesday Afternoon club and at the same time secure an evening's entertainment. This will be an up-to-date fashion show, and the beautiful garments will be displayed by professional models, which will insure an interesting program.

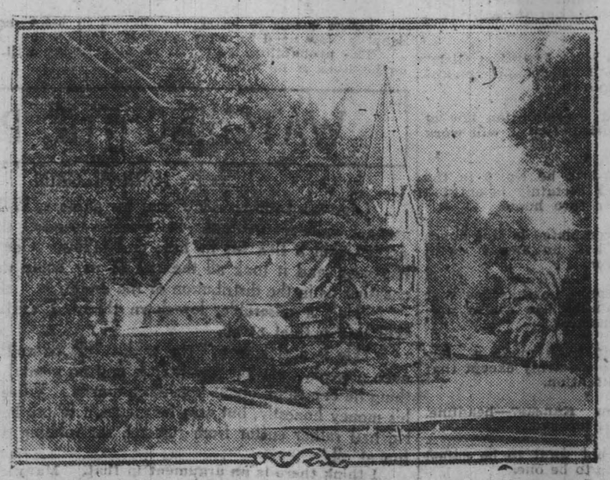
Beautiful Forest Lawn

"Among the Hills"

There are but few burial parks—in the United States—if any—that have planned for a more extensive plan of improvements than has the management of Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Its 250 acres—beautifully improved with a park-like system of landscape gardening and costly buildings. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent—and hundreds of thousands of dollars will be spent to complete the various units now under construction.



Everything that art, science and loving care can devise has been planned for different forms of burial—be it earth burial, mausoleum crypt, cremation, columbarium niche or private vault.

Truths in Epigram

What is well done is done soon enough. — Du Bartas (1544-1590).

A little folly is desirable in him that will not be guilty of stupidity.—Montaigne (1533-1592).

What cannot be cured can be endured.—Rabelais (1495-1546).

HOPING AGAINST REASON

At this writing the entombed miners at Jackson have been two weeks imprisoned in the darkness of the lower workings. Meanwhile there have been fires, not only destructive of oxgyen, but likely to be the cause of noxious gas. So far as known, the men have been without food. Nevertheless the work of rescue is in progress at full speed, and the tireless workers inspired by the hope of brinoing the victims out alive. Such an outcome could be regarded as little less than miraculous. Men for a long time may be sustained by courage, by the knowledge that help is trying to reach them, but they cannot long survive deprivation that is coupled with despair.

When by a direct effort of the will once ceases to partake of food, knowing all the time that food is within reach, he may cling to life for a long period. Strong men adrift at sea without provisions, beholding no chance of aid, soon succumb. Four days is as extended a span as any but the stronger may endure. The most virile of the lot might be living at the end of a week; not at the end of the second week.

According to the estimate now made, the miners will have been buried three weeks before an opening can be made into their prison. Yet there are professions of belief that they will be found alive. This would be an outcome joyously welcomed. It seems to assume that the miners are immune to the effect of physical conditions concerning the fatal result of which ordinarily there could be no question.

THE ROAD RUFFIAN

There is nothing radical in the demand that the highways be made safe for decent people. They should be utterly rid of the drunken driver or the fool driver who acts as though drunk. Automobilists coming from Long Beach Sunday night beheld an instance of the sort that ought to be eliminated.

Four men tore along in a large car at terrific speed, the muffler wide open. The car was on the wrong side of the road much of the time. It approached and darted over crossings with no lessening of pace. Many had narrow escapes. One machine at a crossings was hit, but not seriously damaged. Farther on, a machine was drawn up to the curb, motionless. The drunken driver lurched over to that side, for him the wrong side. As he passed, his machine tore a wheel frrm the standing machine, but went on without a pause.

People who had seen the outrageous conduct tried to get the number of the offending automobile, but it was too dirty to be deciphered. One machine load pursued, however, clear into the city. There they took a policeman aboard, explained the situation, and were given authority to "step on it." Ultimately the offenders were crowded to the sidewalk and arrested. The question now is what shall be done with such dangrous offenders.

The law says specifically that for a person while drunk to drive an automobile is a felony. Very well, let it go at that. If the courts will respect this very proper provision in this case, an excellent start will be made.

It is against the law to go faster than a certain speed, the act punishable by fine or imprisonment.

To come into collision, and then hasten on without the proffer of aid, is a seperate crime.

To have the license number obscured by dirt or otherwise also is a punishable dereliction.

A condition of drunkenness is evidence of the illegal sale nad use of liquor, giving another set of officials a suggestion.

It is not decent for drunken drivers to be on the highway. It is not decent to permit them to be there. They are dangerous as a pestilence. In the aggregate they constitute a pesilence. They infest the community endanger it, and defy it. To cause every miscreant of this type to forfeit his license would be put a beginning. The whole malignant lot should be in jail.

THE SPEEDY TRIAL

Recently a man was placed on trial for murder in the courts of this county. The entire procedure, including selection of a jury, occupied five hours. A verdict of manslaughter was reached. It appears to have satisfied the ends of justice, which, it is to be assumed, is the purpose of courts. In an adjoining county not long ago, similar expedition was shown to the great saving of time, money and spectacular foolishness. In each of these cases the defendant was too poor to hire a lawyer.

In many trials the whole affair has been made farcical because the defendant did have money. That the poor and the rich do not have the same chance of justice often is true. This is not because the poor prisoner fails to escape penalty. It is because he gets justice, which often is the last thing desired by him. The money expended on behalf of the rich prisoner is not in quest of justice. It is to pave the way to escape quite regardless of justice, and this is often does.

Where counsel famous for procuring the acquittal of the guilty are hired, they introduce delay, create and promote confusion. Their object is to clear the client, not to uphold the law. Often they are aware of the guilt of the client, and thus enabled to contrive a defense designed to hide the truth. They are able to do this because knowing the exact truth, they understand the method of keeping it concealed.

The quick verdict after brief preliminaries is in token that justice is having an inning.

KIPLING IN THE WRONG

Of late years the great Kipling has not lived up to the promise of his youth and his early maturity. The condition of mind characterized of old age seems to have come upon him over soon. His thought process appears to have gone awry, and he has lost the brilliancy of expression, the subtly implied humor that combined to give his work virility and charm. Thus when he inveighs against America, and the part this country took in the world war, the emotion he incites is not so much indignation as pity.

Kipling recently charged that the United States had entered the war two years too late, that is did so only for gold, and that while "America now has our gold, England has saved her soul." He had remarked earlier that the real America died in 1860. So bald an impertinence naturally serves to rob the rest of his assertions of value.

It was an English speaker who made public refutation of Kipling's averments. He did it so well that the circumstance that Senator Borah had preceded him in this effort does not matter much.

The speaker in question was Harold Spender, a journalist formerly with the Westminster Gazette, who said at a New York gathering: "Contrary to Mr. Kipling's charges you saved us in the war. We saved France, we saved Belgium then you saved us."

Mr. Spender added that the United States did not come into the war for gold, regardless of both Kipling and Ambassador Harvey. "We have learned not to believe ambassadors," he added naively.

This country spent nearly twenty millions on war in addition to the billions it lent to Europe, not asking or receiving reparation or profit of any kind. Secretary of War Weeks has answered Kipling conclusively, but it is questionable that the author was deserving of such attention.

BREAD AND BUTTER AND WHISKY

Henry Ford has promulgated a rigid prohibition law covering his army of employees. Of course, there will be the usual outcry that personal liberty has received another blow in the solar plexis. This is not a fair view, however. Nothing in the rule laid down by Ford conflicts with the constitution. Indeed, it seems to harmonize to the utmost nicety, with a much discussed amendment.

Long ago the railroads issued orders that no employee in any manner connected with the movement of traffic should touch intoxicating liquors. The effect of this was excellent. Some of the men grumbled. Some of them were defiant, and soon found themselves elsewhere in search of work. In the end there was general satisfaction. The men not only were sober, but glad of it. The earnings that had gone across the bar accumulated in the bank. The number of accidents was lessened.

Ford has a tremendous establishment. Millions of dollars are tied up in it. Many thousands earn their livings in it, and not one can complain of niggardly pay. It would be possible for a single employee under the influence of drink, and to safeguard his subordinates. He deserves credit for his course. There is not the slightest obligation upon any employed to hire a man whose presence he might regard as a menace to all concerned.

IN A MONETARY MAZE

According to astute observers, and in accord with general belief, financial conditions in Germany are extremely bad. They are not so bad, but that they become worse. Financiers such as Frank Vanderlip suggests the possibility of bread riots there the coming winter. Of all who have studied the situation none seems to have evolved a way out. Germany, with other parts of Europe also, may be said to be in a mystic maze. The exit is the puzzle.

Germany is required to pay gold, and has no gold. Therefore Germany is unable to pay. In order to get gold it must manufacture. For this it must be able to purchase raw material; more gold necessary. Could it get its factories to producing for shipment, to America, for example, it would find here a tariff wall erected with the idea of keeping out competition. That is the situation that ise being faced.

It is vital to the interests of the world that Europe come back to normal. There can be no general prosperity when a vast area is subjected to the hardships of poverty. Europeans do not want to fight, but they live in constant fear that they may have to fight. They much would prefer to get about their peaceful tasks, to till the soil, to sow and to reap. Grim want is at the threshold. Hope is at low ebb. Labor is unprofitable or impossible in places where there should be the hum of industry.

The German mark has scarce more dignity than the Russian ruble, which has none whatever, and only by courtesy is to be regarded as money.

Perhaps the world has wise men who will straighten out the tangle, but they have as yet made no sign.

THE RIGHT WORD

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

GRAMMAR PLACED

Meredith Nicholson explans the relationship of the study of grammar to training in the art of clear and correct expression.

"First, teach children how to express themselves clearly and correctly; secondly, back up this training with drills in grammar, that they may learn the reasons for the good habits they are forming."—Meredith Nicholson, to the author of "The Right Word" during an interview in Indianapolis.

Mr. Nicholson went on to say that the study of grammar is valuable, but that it is of prime importance to turn out of schools and colleges boys and girls that use good English. The great novelist claimed that the only way this could be done by our educational institutions is to see that every instructor himself speaks properly and by example and unrelenting insistence on correct expression, both oral and written, makes his charges do likewise.

I asked him if he thought the schools were deficient in English training.

Mr. Nicholson replied that from what we hear in business and society and on the streets there is surely something lacking in the English training our boys and girls are receiving in the schools today. He wondered whether this might not be caused to some extent by hte foreign-born citizens that seem to be creeping gradually on to our teaching staffs.

"Just how much importance do you attach to the study of grammar?" I asked.

Mr. Nicholson replied with emphasis that he was convinced the principal task is to make correct expression a habit irrespective of grammatical rules. But he addded that the study of grammar has its place in helping scholars to understand the fundamental principles of the good habits they are forming, thus fortifying them for the future.

Mr. Nicholson stressed the importance of a child's reading the best works of great authors.

Tomorrow the author of "The Right Word" will comment on the thought advanced by Meredith Nicholson.

Next Monday's interview—Theodore H. Price.

THE LISTENING POST

If you had a boy or girl to send into the world.

And it may be you have.

And if not, you may be a boy or girl who has the world to go into.

And through.

But whatever the circumstance may be—

There is something you ought to know.

* * *

Of course, there are many things it is good for you to know.

Some of them you will learn early.

Some late.

Some you will learn before you go nito the world.

Some after you get in.

But there is one especially important thing you ought to know before you begin your world's work.

* * *

It may be you have heard it.

If so it will do no harm to repeat it.

It may be you have not heard it.

In which case it is very important you hear it now.

It sums up pretty much all of the wisdom of all of the ages.

* * *

Men and women who have achieved learned it early.

Some men and women who have achieved learned it late.

For it is never too late to mend, the wise saw says.

So it is never too late to learn.

* * *

Men and women in some cases have not discovered themselves until late in life.

The pathway to success did not open itself until meridian had passed.

One of the pernicious beliefs of the age is that years are a handicap.

Years are a blessing if they are rightly considered.

For they bring tolerance, prudence, sympathy and kindliness.

* * *

But to get back to the secret of success.

Of usefulness and self-respect and an assured place in life.

It is necessary to know how to do some useful thing well.

Not passably well.

But very well.

* * *

That is what a boy or girl should learn early.

That usefulness is the measure of happiness.

There is the difference between usefulness and uselessness that there is between the sound oak in the forest and the rotted tree.

One makes excellent timber.

The other makes only indifferent firewood.

* * *

What do you want to be?

What do you want your boy or girl to be?

A sound timber in a solid structure.

Or a bit of ash at the edge of the grate?

A builder in the workshop of life or a vagrant by the roadside?

* * *

To do one useful thing well.

To be able to do a distinct share of the work of the world with skill and credit.

That is the secret.

To be able to render service that is in demand.

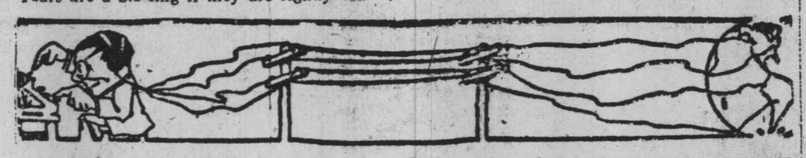
So——

What do you intned to fit yourself for that you shall be a part of useful life?

The time to determine that is as early as you have the vision of what life is.

And until you learn that you have no vision of life at all.

JAMES W. FOLEY



SONGS OF THE POETS

Easter—By Edmund Spenser (1552-159)

Most glorious Lord of Lyfe! that, on this day,
Didst make Thy triumph over death and sin;
And, having harrowd hell, didst bring away
Captivity thence captive, us to win:
This joyous day, deare Lord, with joy begin;
And grant that we, for who thou diddest dye,
Being with Thy deare blood cleane washt from sin,
May live for ever in felicity!
And that Thy love we weighing worthily,
May likewise love Thee for the same againe;
And for Thy sake, that all lyke deare didst buy,
With love may one another entertayne!
So let us love, deare Love, lyke as we ought,
—Love is the lesson which the Lord us taught.

Mother's Milk Protects from Germ Foes

Mother's milk acts an an antitoxin and vaccine to protect the chemically helpless new-born baby from disease according to Arthur H. Smith of the Sheffield Laboratory of Physiological Chemistry of Yale university.

"The new born infant is defenseless," he says, "not only physically but also chemically. His blood lacks that part known as euglobulin to which are attached those antibodies or chemical substances which oppose the constant attack of disease germs. Until provided with some source of euglobulin, the baby is at the mercy of the agencies of disease and destruction.

"The chemical laboratories of the milk glands of the mother are wonderfully efficient, however. They either manufacture entirely, or appropriate for use from the mother's blood, the euglobulin so urgently needed by the child. For the first two or three days after birth, the milk is so rich in this and other proteins that it is often slimy in consistency."

Just as vaccine and antitoxin are used to introduce into the blood antibodies to fight certain diseases, Mr. Smith points out, so the mother's milk furnishes the substances which give the child some degree of immunity directly. Furthermore, it also provides the mechanism for the acquisiton of the child's future protection.

Scientists of the Pasteur Institute of the Breslau university in Germany are demanding that patients desiring treatment for rabies shall bring a yhole rabbit. They would prefer two rabbits and they must be alive. The treatment consists in a progressive innoculation with an attenuated virus. To secure the proper strength virus the rabbits are first innoculated and then a virus obtained from them for use on the human being. On account of the scarcity of rabbits requisition has been made on the backyard warrens of the patients to supply the necessary animals.

The hopes of the rising generation that somebody would discover that cod liver oil is not such a fine thing for young stomachs were dashed to earth by a paper which Arthur D. Holmes presented before the American Chemical society. His experiments show that even the oil obtained from emaciated fish in the springtime was full of the growth vitamine.

To be sure of knowing where his oils came from, Mr. Holmes caught his own cod fish, obtained their livers, and rendered the oils under laboratory conditions. He tested out the vitamine content by feeding the oil to rats.

Golf is having a refining influence in Sick Horse Creek, Alta., according to the Saskatoon Daily Star. It is no longer considered etiquette to draw a gun on Main street without hollering "Fore."

[Pure Oil News]

Take one reckless, natural born fool. Two or three drinks of bad liquor. A fast, high-powered motor car.

USE FOR MOONSHINE

(Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph)

At last a use has been found for "moonshine" whisky. If th facts are as stated it has been used with deadly effect on the cockroaches infesting the court house. Old John Barleycorn was never given crdeit for such good work.

WHO LAUGHS BEST?

(From the Lowell Courier-Citizen)

Poe loved his birthplace Boston just about as dearly as Whistler his birthplace Lowell. He perhaps, even now in some distant star smiles sardonically as he witnesses the fuss that has been caused at the Hub by somebody's changing the name of "Edgar A. Poe Square" to "Matthew Emmett Ryan Square." Possibly, indeed, Poe and Whistler may somewhere be getting together to swap experiences as regards being snubbed by municipal authorities.

IF THEY EAT THE PROPHET

(From the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph)

Up at Middletown, N. Y., groundhogs ready for roasting are being sold in the public markets. Which reminds us of the Scriptural saying, "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country and in his own house." If they kill off all the groudhogs up that way now how remorseful they will be on February 2 of next year, when there will be no furry prophet to tell them what kind of weather is coming!

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

In this column, in frivolous moments, mention has been made of astrology. It has not been treated as a science. Its devotees insist that this was an error. Possibly, an instance that has just come to light tends to strengthen their position.

HENRY JAMES

The newspapers tell of a bride who "through her study of the stars, and their relation to blood vibration, has learned that the moles that are blemishes, are really marks of the gods, left on their favored ones, so that kindred souls might distinguish each other."

Now if that is not the expression of scientific thought, what is it. Here a suitable pause is made for reply. . . There comes no answer.

If the mole is a mark of the gods, the strawberry mark on the arm of the long-lost heir also ought to be explained in some dignified fashion.

The reasoning of the lady is a little too deep for the lay mind, but so is that which supports the Einstein theory, so no matter.

Accepting the thoery that kindred souls snoop 'round until they find a mole familiar to them in a previous incarnation, it may strike some judgments as singular that a feature more prepossessing should not have impressed itself upon the memory, there to cling through the ages. One may tolerate a mole on a friend, but one does not love the mole-cherish warm thoughts centering about the mole. Better concentrate on a shell-like ear, or a pearly set of teeth (Natural).

With the mole established as the benign brand of the gods, of course, the habit of getting the beauty doctor to cut it out, becomes taboo.

"My pulpits will welcome me back with open arms," remarks Wilson. He has been a preacher, but after all does not seem to know much about pulpits.

The circus that lingers among youthful memories is no more. There still is an aggregation of wild beasts, rather pitiful than picturesque. There are clowns, and pretty girls who ride horses and swing from the dizzy trapize. The smell is the old familiar one of fond recollection.

The modern circus charges a dollar for admission, and then in order to get a seat fit to sit in, the patron is cinched for six-bits more.

The sideshow has raised its prices. The suave seller of tickets proclaims that one admission gives entrance to all these shows, and he know that it doesn't.

The bag that in the dear days of yesteryear held five cents worth of peanuts, holds two cents worth now, and sells for fifteen. The soft and alluring drinks, their color true to tradition, but their flavor alien to all palates, also costs fifteen cents.

Let father take mother and the kids to a circus now, and zowie! pop goes another week's wages!

Judge Monroe recently gave a mother considerable advice. Her valuation of the counsel is not stated. He told her that to spare the rod was to spoil the child, this idea, however, being cribbed.

He thought a 13-year-old girl (in this particular instance) should not be permitted to use rogue, but should be spanked for the good of her soul. He objected to the practice of letting a child address her mother by the elder's first name. He declared that a married woman had no business to parade under the title of Miss. Neither did he think it correct for a married woman to receive notes from a man not her husband beginning "Dearest Babe."

Isn't the Judge old-fashioned?

Doctors in charge of the White House patient recently grouped themselves for the benefit of photographers. This made certain that their pictures would be published in many papers. Attention is called to the fact, htat such conduct was very like a quest for advertising.

There is a code, perhaps not written, but generally recognized, that declares it wicked for a doctor to advertise. Not all doctors accept it in spirit, and if they can violate it without danger of a call-down, they may be depended upon to do so.

Week after week police records show the arrests of pickpockets. The surprising part of it is that they are the same pickpockets. This causes some curiosity as to why police go to the trouble of arresting them.

The pickpocket really is a very annoying type of social vermin. The sudden loss of a purse is a serious inconvenience. When a citizen starts from home wearing a watch, he deems it his right to return with the same watch.

It would seem to be an excellent plan to penalize the picketpocket instead of making a sort of pet of him.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

I have a brother-in-law and his name is Will and he is about the ornerist white man extant. He would—to quote the more or less classic simile—skin a flea for its hide and tallow. One of our relatives died last year, and it took all the rest of us could do to keep Will from cheating us in the distribution of the estate.

"He's a miserable, low-down thief," I said. But his sister says Will isnt' a thief at all.

"He is a sick man," she said. "He doesn't get out of the house once a week. He has few friends and no mental resources. The only thing he can think about is making money. When he was well he made his money honestly, but now he makes it where he can and how he can. He had rather suffer from remorse for robbing a friend than have no fun at all."

I think there is an argument in that. Many's the sick man, mental, moral, or physical, I have known who was unfit for honest, decent men to deal with. Come to think of it, I'm not so sure that any thief or any cheat is a wholly sound man. I think sometimes that dishonesty can be an illness than a vice. Nor do I believe that true dishonesty can be cured.

"I have been an absolutely honest man for ten years," an old rascal said to me. "Yet people do not trust me."

I could not understand this, for he had established himself in a new town where no one knew his spotted past.

"I'll tell you why," he said, with a chuckle of real enjoyment welling up from his chest. "It is because I had rather cheat than anything else in the world. I get more fun out of it. The only reason I am not stealing is that it does not pay."

There was a sick man, if you will, holding his malady at bay by sheer will-power. Thievery is a form of sickness.

The dickens of it is that it is a contagious form. I'm perfectly willing to forgive these invalids, but I'm hanged if I'll associate with them.

MISS IDA WHITE RETURNS FROM VACATION

Principal of Colorado St. School Made Transcontinental Trip

Miss Ida Waite, principal of the Colorado street school, returned to Glendale Monday and is now established at 401 West Vine street.

She spent her vacation in a transcontinental tour which took her to the Grand Canyon, New Orleans, Washington, D. C., New York and from there to Albany by the Hudson river, to Lake George, Lake Champlain, Montreal, the Thousand Islands, and Niagara Falls. On the journey to the coast she was 21 hours late in reaching San Francisco on account of railroad disturbances en route. Four hours of the time was spent in a wait in Royal Gorge, and there was engine trouble, which made the train run slowly.

DR. KELLOGG IS APPRECIATIVE CITIZEN

"Place the name of Dr. P. S. Kellogg, 614 North Louise street, on the honor roll," said City Manager Reeves this morning.

Here's how it all happened, according to Capt. Reeves:

"Dr. Kellogg called up the other day and stated that he wanted North Louise street paved, but in the meantime he asked that the chuckholes along that thoroughfare be 'plugged.' I told him I would attend to the matter and I instructed the street superintendent to make the desired improvement. Yesterday the doctor called and I braced myself for a jolt in the way of a kick of some kind. But no, the doctor was not so inclined. He said:

"'I just want to congratulate you on the excellent manner and the speed with which you improved North Louise street. It was certainly fine of you to take care of us in such a grand manner.'"

"That's why. See the point?"

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK—

By E. R. WAITE
Secretary Board of Commerce, Shawnee, Okla.

THAT some men approach the door of Opportunity one way and some another. Some can't recognize it when they do see it and some are so dead, they wouldn't see it if they could. Your city is full of opportunities. Now is the time that all men should awaken and enter the door.

THAT every city has a bunch of "Doubting Thomases"; they have as many lives as a cat. You can't get rid of them, but the number might be cut down if the right methods were used.

THAT your chamber of commerce constitutes the machinery through which a large and powerful influence is wielded toward the promotion of commercial and industrial prosperity for your city.

THAT the secretary of your chamber of commerce is a shock absorber for your city.

THAT flies have mobilized in great numbers—SWAT 'EM!

THAT a smile is an asset, a frown a liability.

THAT a business man who does not believe in advertising isn't destined to travel very far on the road to success.

THAT carrying the gospel of your city into new fields as well as reviving interest in your old ones, is what your newspapers are doing each day.

THAT "BUSINESS IS BETTER" is the word that is being passed down the line these days; for business is better, and people are taking note of that fact.

DARE DEVILS TO GATHER AT SHORE

Santa Monica will be the scene of a great motorcycle meet on Sunday, September 17. There will be daredevil and stunt riding, and among those participating will be several Glendale riders. The following local boys will be featured in exhibitions of difficult stunt riding: George Page, Gerald Page, Ralph Day and Sid Chambers.

Ted Miller of Los Angeles will thrill the crowd by jumping off the end of the pier while riding at a rate of 60 miles an hour. Brick Wolters will race with a coaster on the scenic railway. This is a feat that has not as yet been accomplished by any other than Wolters.

The meet is an annual affair and is held under the auspices of the Los Angeles Motorcycle club.

TOM MIX ENDS RUN AT THE GLENDALE

"For Big Stakes" Ends Tonight; Bull Montana in "Ladies' Man"

Straight as a bullet out of a gun, the new Tom Mix Fox picture scored a hit at the Glendale theatre last night. From start to finish the photoplay, "For Big Stakes," carried the audience along, without a moment's lapse in the intense interest. The end of the picture came all too soon for the capacity crowd present. The outdoor scenes reflect the atmosphere of Arizona delightfully. Of the lively action expected in Mix pictures there is plenty, with adventure galore and much romance.

Tom Mix well deserves the great popularity he enjoys. Not only has he a pleasing personality, but he can act—and he does. No pesing hero is Tom. He is all man, mighty of muscle, and courage itself in deeds of daring which involve physical peril. And in his horse Tony he has an invaluable and most understanding aid. The keenness of this four-footed sage is uncanny.

There is a girl in the film—and what a girl! She is all smiles and twinkles, laughter and dimples. Among the many thrills in the production the greatest is a ride by Mix on Tony to save the girl from death in a prairie fire.

The picture will be at the Glendale theater tonight for the last time.

The Girl, by the way, is played by Patsy Ruth Miller.

MINNESOTA PICNIC

The Minnesotans are among the most loyal to the memory of the old home state and their picnic reunions are jolly affairs.

The next will be held in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, Saturday, September 23. Remember the date. There will be county registers and headquarters, souvenir badges, coffee and popular program of songs and addresses.

Bring your basket dinners and enjoy a long, happy day. Pass the word along to every Gopher you know. Talk, write, phone. You may ask questions of C. H. Parsons, 10261, secretary federation of state societies, Continental National bank, Ninth and Main.

Our indoor socials are the first Friday evening each month, Music Art hall, 233 South Broadway.

BROADWAY JOG MEETING

A mass meeting to consider the jog at Broadway and Central avenue will be held Friday evening at Pollock's garage, corner of West Broadway and Central avenue.

John Bull Loses Hold on Sports

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—England feels that she has reached a point of national disgrace in sports. The loss of the British tennis championships, the British open golf title, the rowing classics and the international polo matches were considered terrible blows to national prestige.

The greatest howl has been made against the governing bodies of tennis, golf and polo. Particular distress was felt over the decline in polo made evident when the Argentine team cleaned up all over England.

Criticism was voiced that the game had "been nursed too long by men grown obsolete who were maintained because they owned the best ponies."

* * * * * *

Major Vivian Lockett, the "Devereux Milburn" of British polo, takes vigorous exceptions to the criticism.

"Our present lack of polo quality is the result of the war," he said in an interview with the United Press. "It takes five to ten years to make a polo player and all the men who by rights would be our best players tdoay were killed in the war. Further, cavalry officers, who form a large percentage of polo players, have been on service in Ireland. Young men have not re-established their financial condition enough after the war to buy the expensive ponies necssary to get skilled at the game."

* * * * * *

Everyone admits that England suffered terribly from the war, but the critics point out that in most of the major sports, English style is following obsolete form and is making no effort to modernize their methods of training.

* * * * * *

British golf critics declare that the American game is becoming more and more superior because the Americans pay more attention to developing a good putting game while the English persist at the long driving game.

* * * * * *

British tennis also is falling into the cellar because the English players do not pay more attention to serving, according to George Agutter, the Forest Hills instructor.

"The American court game is on top because the young American players excel at serving," he says. "This is the direct result of baseball. All the young players learn the powerful overhead style of service by pitching a baseball. The rhythm and perfection of the overhead stroke come naturally. Many young British players start at cricket where the underhand delivery is used and when they come to trying the overhand service they devlop an awkward style that fails to get the drive or the accuracy that the American game carries."

* * * * * *

British amateurs also fail to take their sports seriously like the young Americans do. When the Pennsylvania university relay team was in England last spring for a race against the Oxford-Cambridge team, the British invited the American out to several parties and expressed the greatest surprise when the Amricans would not drink beer and smoke. They considered such conscientious training to be almost professional.

* * * * * *

Charges of professionalism were also made by the British against the Naval academy crew at the Olympic games because too much attention and instruction were devoted to rowing at Annapolis. They figured that men being educated to the profession of "sailors" should not be allowed to row against gentlemen oarsmen who were in the game for sport alone.

Old Pal—What! Are they all dry? Then let the darned boat sink.

Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvements within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27, 1893, and of all Acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof.

And thereafter, to-wit: On the 5th day of September, 1922, awarded the contract for said work to the lowest regular responsible bidder, to-wit: Peter L. Ferry, at the prices named for said improvement in his proposal on file for said improvement, to-wit:

A victim of chronic bronchitis called on a well-known physician to be examined. The doctor, after careful questioning, assured the patient that the ailment would respond readily to treatment.

"I suppose you must have had a great deal of experience with this disease," said the sufferer.

The physician smiled wisely and replied:

"Why, my dear sir, I've had bronchitis myself for more than 15 years."

Three brakes on many cars ~ and one is always set

As much as 20% of the power at the rear or driving wheels of the automobile may be lost through the use of an incorrect oil. Too heavy an oil, or one lacking in certain qualities, acts as a brake on the car.

The ideal oil is the thinnest oil which will keep the bearing parts separated, and at the same time offer in itself the least frictional resistance to the engine power going to the driving wheels.

This oil, providing it has "oiliness," stability and purity, will give perfect lubrication and permit the development of the maximum power, speed and gasoline mileage of the car.

Zerolene fills all these requirements perfectly.

The Ideal Oil

All bearing clearances decrease under the heat of operation.

Analysis of Zerolene shows that the differences in its body at the various engine temperatures, from cold to operating temperature, follow in close relation the decrease in bearing clearances.

For this reason Zerolene oils have at all operating temperatures exactly the required body to splash and flow freely into the fast-moving, small-clearance bearings to provide an adequate film of lubricant.

Because of this and its "oiliness," stability and purity, Zerolene gives perfect lubrication under all conditions of engine operation, and permits the development of the maximum power, speed and gasoline mileage of the car.

VETS' WELFARE IS NOT STATE BONUS

All Such Features Have Been Eliminated by World War Soldiers

"California Veterans' Welfare measures, propositions 1 and 3 on the November ballot are not a bonus," emphatically stated Buron R. Fitts of Los Angeles, yesterday.

"All bonus features of these state measures were eliminated by the veterans themselves when the proposal was made before the legislature," declared this former department commander of the American Legion.

"Propositions 1 and 3 on the November ballot are placed there in the interest of every man and woman who enlisted or was inducted into the service of California during the World war, or other wars. If these measures are approved by the people every ex-service man and woman will have the opportunity of purchasing a farm or home with credit furnished by the state, but it will be legitimate aid on a business basis and not a gift or a bonus.

"If an ex-service man or woman chooses to buy a home under these acts, the state will appraise the home or homesite chosen by the veteran, fix the value, and if not over $5,000 the property is purchased by the state, resold to the veteran on long-time payments, and at a low rate of interest. In the event of the selection of a farm, the same methods are followed with $7,500 as the limit. The veteran makes an initial payment and assumes the payment of principal and interest, including all costs of many kind in connection with the transaction. The taxpayers will not be called upon for a single penny. The veteran assumes all, and the state is thoroughly secured by the real estate, the title to which does not pass to the veteran until he has fully paid for it.

"Friend W. Richardson, republican nominee for governor, and Thomas Lee Woolwine, democratic nominee, have both endorsed propositions 1 and 3, and have urged the voters to pass these measures. Legionnaires, business men, bankers and leading men in every community in the state are also urging that propositions 1 and 3 be approved by the people by voting 'yes' November 7."

Mr. Fitts, who is directing the campaign to secure the passage of these measures is a disabled veteran with a national reputation, acquired through his efforts in behalf of ex-service men and women in the nation. He will tour the entire state beginning September 25, and will appear in this city under arrangements with the American Legion and other organizations of veterans.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

JAMES W. FOLEY

FOOLS ON PARADE
(With apologies to Rudyard Kipling)

"What's the row? What's the row?" the Meek Bystander cried.
"Another smash! Another smash!" the Traffic Cop replied.
"How came the trouble all about?" the Meek Bystander cried,
"He tried to beat a railroad train," the Traffic Cop replied.
"For they never learn the lesson, though they hear it every day,
That a railroad on a railroad track should have the right-of-way,
So you see the mangled victim and you hear the dead march play,
And the morgues are overflowing every morning."

"What is the big car speeding for?" the Meek Bystander crier.
"To pick them up, to pick them up!" the Motor Cop replied.
"How come they to be spilled about?" the Meek Bystander cried
"They skidded on a slippery turn," the Motor Cop replied.
"For they come from every alley and they come from every street,
And they drive as if the devil was upon the driver's seat,
Then slip and slide and skid and bang! Head on somewhere they meet,
And the ambulance is clanging in the morning."

When will it stop? When will it stop?" the Meek Bystander cried
Perhaps when all the fools are dead," the Motor Cop replied.
When will that be? When will that be?" the Meek Bystander cried.
The fool supply is always large," the Motor Cop replied.
"So they swing around the corners and they speed around a curve
Poor fools mistaking fool and foolhardiness for nerve
Till they pile up in a heap somewhere all cut up like hors d'oeuvres
And the coroner will get them in the morning."

Tourist—Thank you, it won't be necessary. I used to be the king here.

METHODISTS MARK BIRTHDAY OF DR. CRIST

Young People's Section Takes Charge of Ceremonies at Church

In honor of the birthday of their pastor, Dr. C. M. Crist, the young people's section of the mid-week meeting at the First Methodist church joined their elders Wednesday night, bringing flowers and pledges of loyalty in whatever work Dr. Crist might engage during the coming year.

Dr. Crist's birthday in on the 14th, so the younger members of the congregation decided to arrange an unusual meeting in his honor. After their regular opening exercises in a meeting separate from the elder people, they marched into the main church, and Elwood Ingledue, president of the Epworth league, gave the address of greeting to the pastor. He expressed the unanimous feeling of the young people that Dr. Crist was their friend, as he had shown during the three years of his work here. The meeting was primarily a revival service, and this idea was carried out. Dr. Crist responded with a few words of appreciation, both for their confidence in him and for the beautiful flowers which they brought.

Mrs. Crist was kept busy all Thursday morning arranging the flowers, for the parsonage has become a real bower.

Building to Start in Earnest

Conservative men and builders predict the biggest building boom in the history of Glendale this fall. That labor and material will not be cheaper for a long time, if at all, is the opinion of all well informed men, who have carefully studied things.

It is a certainty that real estate values will not go down, but on the contrary will advance right along. Residential lots have advanced hundreds of dollars within the last year or more, and there is a continued advance everywhere. Following the advice of those in a position to know we would say buy a lot and build now.
